Republican Conventions in New York and Massachusetts.

Special to The Tribune by the Western Associated Press.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

Chauncey M. Depew Was Chosen Temporary Chairman.

SARATOGA, N. Y., September 25.—The Republican State Convention was called to order this afternoon.

Chauncey M. Depew was chosen temporary chairman, after several times voting, and three cheers were given. He then addressed the Convention, and the silence that followed attested the interest of the Convention, in his reference to the growth of the South American States almost unnoted by the United States but fostered by England. [illegible] control of the nation's [illegible] and his attention to the South American commerce was referred to [illegible] Depew, great applause was awakened. When Depew referred to the rumors of Republican dissensions in this State, and then shouted, "The Republican party of this State is all here," the delegates nudged each other in approval and craned their necks to see how ex-Senator Miller and Senator Hiscock received the utterances. Both those gentlemen were immobile of feature, however. His reference to the control of the liquor traffic was warmly received and again Miller's face was scanned for evidence of approval, but not a line of his face relaxed, however. The usual committees were appointed and recess was taken until half past three.

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICANS.

Their Platform Recommends Many Reforms.

BOSTON, September 25.—The Republican State Convention was called to order this morning and the usual committees appointed. Ex-Governor Robinson was selected for permanent chairman.

The platform commends the President's civil service policy and looks to Congress to defend a sound currency. It resists the increase of the present silver coinage, also aims to bring about a reduction of the surplus revenue, and requests Representatives and Senators from Massachusetts to support a thorough equitable revision of the tariff, so as to adapt the protection which it affords to changed business conditions affecting New England industries in common with those of those of the rest of the country. It favors a liberal policy towards soldiers and sailors and asks for aid for our steamship lines. It also favors an increase of our navy.

J. Q. A. Brackett was nominated for Governor.

A LOST FISHING PARTY.

Their Boat Found in the Bay by Chinamen Last Night.

SAN RAFAEL, September 25.—Last Monday evening about 7 o'clock George Henry, a guard at San Quentin Prison, M. F. Smith, a fireman on Southern Pacific Railroad, living at Oakland, F. Robinson of San Francisco, a harness maker, and Charles Chinette, a sailor on the schooner Active, started on a fishing trip to the Lime Point lighthouse. After they had left San Quentin quite a breeze sprung up and the waves ran high. Grave fears were entertained of their being able to reach their destination. No word has been received from them since, and it is supposed that they are drowned. A number of Chinese fishermen on their way to the railroad wharf with their catch last evening saw an upturned boat in the bay some distance out and when they rowed it to the landing it was recognized as the boat in which the fishing party had left on the day previous.

A DRUNKEN ENGINEER.

He Has a Narrow Escape From Being Lynched.

CHICAGO, September 25. Seth Twombley, engineer of the freight engine which last evening crashed into the suburban train of the Rock Island road, had a narrow escape from being lynched. The crowd pursued him, but he escaped. He was arrested this morning. He is a son of the Master Mechanic of the road. He is known to be a hard drinker and it is asserted that he was so drunk last night that he had to be lifted into his cab. Others declare he was sober. He says he saw neither the suburban train nor the red light on the track.

A BOILER EXPLOSION.

Five Men Instantly Killed and Two Wounded.

BUTLER, Pa., September 25.—Yesterday a boiler at the sawmill of the Pritz Brothers exploded. John Pritz, Edward Pritz, Oliver Ross, David Ross and David Baker, all well known young men of this vicinity, were instantly killed. Two brothers named Brant were badly injured, but may recover. The mill was completely wrecked.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONGRESS.

Secretary Blaine Will Give the Delegates a Dinner.

WASHINGTON, September 25.—Letters were mailed from the Department of State today, which informed the delegates to the International American Congress that they would be expected to report for organization at the Department of State October 2d. They have been received by Blaine who will deliver an address of welcome. After organization they will proceed to the White House where they will be formally presented to the President. It is understood that Blaine intends to give them a dinner the same evening. The delegates were also informed that a residence had been secured for the use of the Congress, and that subsequent meetings will be held there.

AMERICAN BANKERS.

They Discuss International Coinage and Free Silver Coinage.

KANSAS CITY, September 25.—The Annual Convention of the American Bankers' Association met here to-day. A thousand bankers are present from all parts of the country. Parsons delivered the opening address. He recommended that the convention consider international circulation, a uniform bill of lading, uniform paper for drawing bills of exchange and a National clearing house. President St. John of the Mercantile National Bank addressed the convention on legal tender coinage. The speaker proposed that an act be adopted by Congress which should do away as rapidly as convenient with United States legal tender notes, and opening the United States Mints for the free coinage of silver.

HONORS TO THE PRESIDENT.

He Was Given a Grand Reception at Cumberland.

CUMBERLAND, September 25. President Harrison [illegible] Park this morning [illegible] for the Centennial [illegible] at Cumberland [illegible]

The Army of Tennessee.

CINCINNATI, September 25. The Twenty-second Annual Reunion of the Society of the Army of Tennessee began this morning at 10 o'clock. The members formed in line, and, with Generals Sherman, Howard, and Dodge at the head, marched to College Hall, where the business meeting was held.

General Sherman on taking the chair made no formal speech, but proceeded at once to business, which was of a routine character.

Yellow Fever Germs.

BALTIMORE, September 25. Dr. G. M. Sternberg, major and surgeon of the United States Army, has returned from a six months stay in Cuba, where he has been continuing the researches in reference to the cause and prevention of yellow fever. He has discovered various disease germs hitherto not described, but is as yet unable to say whether or not they are yellow fever germs distinctively.

A Speedy Judgment.

WINONA, Miss., September 25.—Early this morning a mob of 200 entered the jail and took out Sol Parnell, a negro, and hanged him to a railroad trestle. Parnell was accused of assaulting a 15 year old daughter of a prominent citizen. He confessed his guilt.

The Ives Jury Disagreed.

NEW YORK, September 25.—The jury in the Ives case disagreed this morning and were discharged. They stood ten for conviction and two for acquittal. Ives was remanded to the Tombs prison.

A Threatened Strike.

DUBLIN, September 25.—The men employed in the quarry at Arklow, owned by Parnell, threaten to strike unless the agent who, obnoxious to them, is replaced by a local Nationalist.

A Poetess Dead.

LONDON, September 25.—Eliza Cook, the poetess, died today at Wimbledon, where she lived in seclusion for many years. She was born in 1818.

A Chinese Policeman.

PITTSBURG, September 25.—Chief Brown appointed to the police force a Chinaman, Yen Doo, and Judge Acheson to-day refused to naturalize him.

TRAIN ROBBERS.

They Overlook $70,000 in Government Money.

All They Got Was $3000—They Shot at the Conductor But no One Was Hurt.

MOBILE, Ala., September 25.—The Mobile and Ohio south bound mail and passenger train was held up at 3:15 o'clock this morning by train robbers at Buckatunna, Miss., seventy miles north of Mobile. Just before the train left Buckatunna two men mounted behind the tender and climbed on, covering the engineer and fireman with revolvers. They ordered the engineer, under pain of death, to pull out and stop at the bridge two miles below Buckatunna, and place the train so that the express and mail car should be on the further side of the bridge from the rest of the train, the bridge being a trestle over a deep creek. This was done, then the third robber appeared. They covered the express messenger and compelled him to dump the contents of the safe into a sack. They got $3000. Alongside the express car door was piled $70,000 in government money en route for Florida, which the robbers failed to take. Then the robbers made the expressman get out of the car and go with them to the mail car. W. C. Bell, the mail agent, who suspected that a robbery was going on, tried to get into the baggage car with a number of registered packages of mail, but the robbers intercepted him. The robber leader, supposed to be Bunch, faced him with pistol in hand, and finding Bell's arms full of packages, compelled him to give them up. Just then Billy Scoles the conductor, armed with a Winchester, came out and shouted: "What's the matter?" One robber fired two shots at him, crying out at the same time, "Come up here and you will see what's the matter." The train was then allowed to proceed, and the robbers disappeared. A posse has been sent in pursuit.

ANOTHER TRAIN ROBBERY.

The Robbers Only Capture $1000—The Other Money Not Found.

FORT WORTH, Tex., September 25.—Last night as the north bound Santa Fe train was pulling out of Crowley, ten miles south of this city, three men boarded the train, two others jumped on the locomotive. The two on the engine put pistols to the heads of the engineer and the fireman, and, when two miles from Crowley, ordered them to stop. The robbers then cut the engine, baggage, and express cars from the rest of the train and ordered the engineer to pull half a mile further. The express messenger was then compelled to show the robbers money. They took two bags, said to contain $500 each, overlooking three or four other packages. The train reached here at midnight. A posse of twenty men started in pursuit of the robbers, who were taken a westerly course.

CHANCELLOR HARTSON.

Dropped Dead at His Home in Napa This Afternoon.

His Career in Politics—Prominent in the Republican Party—The Offices He Has Held.

Special to the Oakland Tribune by Western Associated Press.

NAPA, Cal., September 25.—Judge Chancellor Hartson, an old resident of Napa and well known throughout the State, fell dead at his home at 1:10 o'clock this afternoon. Heart disease was the cause. He was 61 years of age, and a native of New York.

Chancellor Hartson was a leading banker of Napa and was at one time a very prominent man in the Republican party. He represented Napa in the Assembly in 1881 and was a candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor in the campaign of 1886, when John F. Swift was nominated. More recently he has had leanings toward prohibition. He was Collector of Internal Revenue during the administration of President Arthur.

ABOUT AN ARM.

The Funeral of an Amputated Limb Causes a Dispute.

When John Greany, the railroad brakeman, was brought to Dr. Woolsey's Hospital last night from San Leandro, where he had been run over, the young man's father was awaiting him and as soon as the patient arrived he made a great disturbance. He didn't want the operation performed and he wanted the boy removed. His disturbance was so great that Dr. Woolsey had to threaten him with arrest before he would calm down. The arm was sent down to Coroner Evers for interment. And there another row occurred. Mr. Greany insisted that the arm be given to him and the Coroner refused. Finally the member was promised him if he would call for it today, and up to this time he has not yet put in an appearance. Greany, the patient, has two severe scalp wounds and a bad fracture of the skull, and his condition is regarded as much better today than it was last night, when he was considered in a critical state.

Willie Hamma, the boy who was run over by a narrow gauge train at Alameda on the 14th instant, is getting along nicely and he will be able to leave the hospital in two weeks.

J. Poirier, a patient from Centerville who had one of his arms frightfully mangled in a cog wheel, and a portion of whose elbow joint was cut out, was out of bed today for the first time since the accident on the 3d of the month. The operation was a very delicate one and one that is very seldom performed. Dr. Woolsey expects the patient's recovery in a very few days now.

SHAW, J.

He Will Grace the Bench for a Few Days.

Yesterday Judge Gibson was engaged in trying the case of Harrison against Lee, to secure an accounting. Only a portion of the testimony was heard, and this morning, when Attorneys A. A. Moore and C. G. Dodge came into court, upon the suggestion of Judge Gibson, it was agreed between them that Lawyer George M. Shaw should act as Judge pro tem. and try the case. Mr. Shaw was required to take the following oath: "I do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of Judge pro tempore in the case wherein S. Harrison is plaintiff and W. H. Lee defendant, according to the best of my ability."

Judge Shaw will take up the case in a few days.

THE PIRATE.

Unsuccessful Search for the Man Who Stabbed the Mates.

Futile have been the searches of the detectives for the desperate burglar who boarded the schooner at Washington street wharf, stole a watch, stabbed the two mates, who tried to prevent his escape, and then swam ashore. One man was arrested in San Francisco on suspicion, and the mates were taken to the City Prison to look at him. They said he is not the man who cut them.

In the Nineties.

The highest temperature reached yesterday was 91 degrees in a cool place in the shade. At 5 P. M. the thermometer registered 84 degrees.

Without Pay.

Sheriff Hale has appointed George D. Hager and G. N. Mills Deputy Sheriffs, to serve without pay.

MRS. R. R. JOHNSTON

Replies to Mrs. M. K. Blake's Leaflet.

THAT RESOLUTION OF DISAVOWAL.

A Summary of the Propositions Set Forth in the Leaflet—Politics and Religion.

At the annual meeting of the Oakland Woman's Christian Temperance Union, held in the city of Oakland September 9, 1889, the following resolution was adopted with but one dissenting voice. Several women had, however, left the meeting previous to the vote being taken, who, had they been present, would no doubt have opposed the resolution:

WHEREAS, The Woman's Christian Temperance Union believes that the weight of our influence together with our prayers, our money and our votes should be in the direct line of the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and

WHEREAS, A Leaflet entitled "In Union There Is Strength," has been sent out apparently in the spirit of peace and good will, but practically is an arraignment, not only of our State, but of our National Union. Therefore,

Resolved, That we disclaim all responsibility for it and like literature, regarding it as misleading in its tendency and that we hereby declare that the supreme purpose of our existence is the prohibition of the liquor traffic, and that now as heretofore we pledge to any persons or parties our sympathy and our prayers, who in the name of "God and Home and Native Land" are ready, if need be, to give their lives, their fortune and their sacred honor to this holy cause.

The occasion of the introduction of the above resolution at this meeting was the writing and sending out through California and many, if not all, the other States of the Union a "non-partisan" leaflet, entitled: "In Union There Is Strength" by one of the members of the Oakland Union. The writer alone is responsible for its preparation and circulation. As to the strength, system, and logic of the leaflet we have nothing to say, as it can speak for itself, but we do say that it is mischievous in its tendencies, in confusing the minds of those who are not well informed as to the history of the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and its great end and aim; and, too, it is so full of repetition that when it is all boiled down there is nothing to it but the four following propositions:

1. There should be no prohibition party, because prohibition can be effected without it and by local option.
2. The Woman's Christian Temperance Union should keep out of politics by not favoring the third party.
3. By our present position the Woman's Christian Temperance Union is divided.
4. The California Woman's Christian Temperance Union is not willing to hear the "non-partisans," and the writer herself was not granted a hearing at the last annual meeting.

The following are the answers to the above propositions:

1. The whole history of the local option movement, and especially during the year 1889, proves that the second part of the first proposition is wholly without reason to hope for, and therefore there should be a third party, as the other parties, so far from proposing to effect prohibition, are in alliance with the liquor power and the liquor traffic.
2. The Woman's Christian Temperance Unions are not in politics. No action that has been or can be taken by the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union nor by any State Union can make us a component part of any political party. As women and non-voters, we can only express our sympathy and lend our influence to that party which stands for the utter annihilation of the whole liquor traffic.
3. There is little division in our ranks except in sentiment and as to methods of work. Wherever division has occurred it has been the fault of the members in the non-partisan minority, who, we believe, are wrong in sentiment. We too wish harmony, but we wish it in the truth and in the right. "First pure, then peaceable."
4. Both charges are without foundation and are unfair. Our motto is: "Free speech, free platform, and free press." Like other deliberative bodies, the Woman's Christian Temperance Unions cannot give the entire time of any session intended for the advancement of a great and good cause to a few malcontents who are more interested in vague theories than in earnest practical work. It is the imperative duty of every white ribbon woman in this nation to be wide awake, and to be intensely interested in both State and National politics, and especially in all political action that tends to the advancement of our National welfare. One of the most baneful errors that was ever promulgated, and one that has wrought great harm especially to our own nation is that politics and religion are incompatible.

As the members of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union are also members of the different evangelical churches that have in their annual conferences, associations and synods, taken a radical stand against the whole liquor traffic and also one as radical in favor of the prohibition principles crystalized into a prohibition party, they are in duty bound to keep the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union abreast with the position of the most radical church court, and in no way to become entangled in any system, social, political, or ecclesiastical, that shall tend to divert the energies of the association from the solution of this great and terrible evil—which solution is National Constitutional Prohibition.

ROSAMOND R. JOHNSTON,
President California Woman's Christian Temperance Union.
Oakland, September 25, 1889.

H. A. LUTTREL.

He Says That He Is a Criminal and a City Justice.

The case of Dr. W. H. Blood against Edward Gill was tried before Justice Snook some days ago, and judgment was given for Dr. Blood. This is not the item, however. H. A. Luttrell, who says that he is a City Justice of the Peace, was the attorney for Mr. Gill, and has appealed the case. Still this is not the item. The law says that it is a misdemeanor for any Justice of the Peace to practice in any Justice Court in the county in which he resides, and if Mr. Luttrell is a City Justice he is a criminal. If he is not a criminal he is not a City Justice. He was asked about this yesterday, and this is what he said:

"Of course I am a City Justice."

"Then why do you practice in another Justice Court?"

"Oh! it is only a misdemeanor."

"Then, if you are a City Justice you must be a violater of the law and a criminal, and if you are not a criminal you are not a City Justice?"

"I must be a criminal then."

"Why did you do it?"

"Because I want them to prove that I am a City Justice, and if they will do that I will pay the penalty."

WAKE UP, WARREN

A Contractor's Bond May Be Forfeited.

THE DELAYED WORK ON BROADWAY.

A Proposed Assignment of Contract to W. A. Knowles, Who Did not Pay His Workmen.

C. A. Warren, the accommodating contractor of San Francisco, who loaned his name to W. A. Knowles of this city for use in bidding upon contracts for street work in Oakland, may get into trouble. Warren has never given the least attention to the bids or contracts awarded to him, except to give a bond for the faithful performance of the contract to grade Broadway, north of Fourteenth street. Warren has never called at the office of the Superintendent of Streets of Oakland to inquire anything about the contracts. He sent over a bond for the contract for work on Broadway, though he said to a man who questioned him that he had no further purpose to have anything to do with the fulfillment of the contract. The sureties on that bond are J. F. Logan and Edward Malley, both residents of San Francisco. In the San Francisco directory Mr. Logan is designated as a contractor and Mr. Malley as a capitalist. Mr. Logan is interested with Mr. Warren in several large contracts. Knowles began work on filling the roadway of Broadway to the revised grade and the work of constructing the culvert over a creek near the northern boundary line of the city, and continued the progress thereof until the workmen he employed stopped work because they were not paid any wages.

Nothing has been done on the contract for more than a week and the Superintendent of Streets, who was willing to grant the contractor any reasonable accommodation, has decided to bring Mr. Warren to the front. This afternoon he filed with the City Clerk the following communication:

Gentlemen: Pursuant to section 5 of the General Street Laws of the State of California, I beg to report to your honorable body that the work of grading and the construction of a stone culvert on Broadway, from Fourteenth street to the north boundary line of the city of Oakland, has been stopped. The contractor for said work is C. A. Warren of San Francisco. I would therefore recommend your honorable body to take such immediate action as will facilitate the early completion of said work.

Respectfully, JESSE WALL,
Superintendent of Streets.

The Council may order the Superintendent of Streets to complete the work at the expense of the contractor.

The contract awarded to Warren is a valuable one, and if properly carried out would produce a profit of more than $10,000. But Knowles lacked both money and power to obtain it, and when he could not pay his men they naturally refused to work. Some of the workmen employed M. C. Chapman to try to get the money due them. Mr. Chapman wrote to Mr. Warren about the claims, and received the following reply:

SAN FRANCISCO, September 23, 1889.

M. C. Chapman, Esq., Attorney at Law, Oakland, Cal.—DEAR SIR: Yours of the 21st instant just received and in answer, will say: Mr. Knowles is not my agent and never has been, and I am in no way responsible for any debts he has contracted or may contract either for labor or anything else, and he is not authorized to sign my name to anything, either alone, or in conjunction with his.

Yours truly,
C. A. WARREN
per E. C. Blocksom.

Knowles holds a purported assignment of contract from Warren to him, but no such assignment is on record. Knowles last week entered into negotiations with A. W. Burrell to assign the contract to him, and for a few days Mr. Burrell intended to carry out the contract, but on Saturday last he decided not to have anything to do with it. Some of the official proceedings in relation to this contract were not technically in accordance with the law in every respect, but the owners of property who will pay for the work are anxious for the grading to be completed immediately and would pay for the work if it were done expeditiously and thoroughly. In fact many of them signed an agreement to pay 95 per cent of the amount of their respective assessments upon presentation of bills. With this discount of 5 per cent for cash payments the contract would still have been very profitable, for the contract price for filling is in excess of the actual cost.

The delay is particularly annoying because the Piedmont cable road cannot be constructed north of Fourteenth street, on Broadway, until the grading is completed.

HIGHER THAN A DOLLAR.

The Ordinance to Be Submitted Fixing the Tax Levy.

A consultation of members of the City Council is in progress this afternoon. The matter under discussion is the ordinance fixing the tax levy. Auditor Snow has submitted a draft of an ordinance fixing the levy for general purposes at 91 cents and a fraction, and for interest and redemption of bonded debt at 8 cents and a fraction, making a total of $1 upon every $100 of assessed valuation of property.

Councilman Wakefield, Chairman of the Committee on Finance, is in favor of a higher levy, and is expected to introduce an ordinance fixing the tax levy at about $1 65, including levies for redemption and interest.

The Commissioners of Public Works desire further segregation of funds and creation of separate funds for Police Department, Fire Department, etc., but the Councilmen are unwilling to change the present system of drawing the money for these departments from the General and the Salary funds.

NOT HIS WIDOW.

The Will of Benjamin Collins Filed for Probate.

The will of the late Benjamin Collins was this afternoon filed for probate in the Superior Court of this county. The deceased bequeathed his entire estate to his wife so long as she shall remain his widow. Mrs. Collins, however, died before her husband, and the entire state will go to the three children of the deceased. The property is valued at $4000. E. G. Matthews of East Oakland is nominated as executor in the will. J. C. Plunkett is the attorney for the estate.

A Sovereign in the Sixth.

The queen of the dumps, Mrs. Annie Peterson, formerly Mrs. Gillig, was tried before a jury yesterday on a charge of battery. The jury disagreed and the case was set for trial again next month.

FIRST DAY.

Largest Camp Meeting on the Pacific Coast.

LARGE GATHERING OF ADVENTISTS.

A City of Tents—The Common Sense Cooking School—Book Canvassing As a Science.

The Seventh Day Adventist camp meeting opened this forenoon at the grounds on San Pablo avenue, opposite Sycamore street. By 12 o'clock there were present about 600 people, mostly members of the Adventist Church from country towns adjacent to this city. It is expected that by noon tomorrow there will be 1600 people on the grounds.

The meeting was opened to-day by a Bible lesson delivered by Alonzo T. Jones. The services this evening will be conducted by Elder J. M. Loughbrough, who will preach a sermon at 7:30 P. M.

To-morrow morning there will be an early prayer at 5:30 o'clock. After this will follow the breakfast hour at 7 o'clock, and at 8 o'clock there will be family worship. At 10:30 there will be preaching or Bible reading. At 2:30 P. M. there will be preaching and at 4:30 will be held a session of the cooking school.

As this Camp Meeting is entirely different in its make-up from any other ever held on this coast, and being on a far grander scale than anything heretofore attempted, a short detailed description of its principal features will be strictly in order and will be found below.

The Cooking School.

Mrs. F. L. McClure presides over a class of ninety odd students in the science of preparing food in a way most suitable to the human stomach.

A TRIBUNE reporter called on the lady this morning in the commodious tent set aside for the Hygienic Cooking School.

"How many students have you in your present class?" asked the reporter.

"About ninety," replied the lady professor, "but I expect to have almost as many more before the meeting is over. There is much interest manifested in cooking for health and long life."

"What is the course of lessons that you go through with?"

"O, that is quite extensive. You had better join the class and then you will understand all about it. After you take the course of study that we teach, you will no longer be threatened with dyspepsia and its attendant ills. Your gastronomy will be entirely rejuvenated and you can guard against being imposed upon by unscientific cooks in the future. Good digestion is an important item in human happiness."

"But, Mrs. McClure, the trouble with me is that my digestion is too good."

"Oh, nonsense, that can't be. Come to our class at half past four this afternoon and we will teach you some good common sense."

"How is your course of lessons divided?"

"The first lesson is on soups. We go through the whole list of soups and tell you how to make them so that they shall not ruin your stomach by the eating of them. The next lesson is on cooking grains—all kinds of cereals and their adaptability for food is explained in this lesson. Next comes vegetables and an explanation of the impossibility of digesting fruits and vegetables at the same time."

"Fruits and vegetables do not mix very well, then?" queried the reporter.

"I should say not," returned Mrs. McClure. "It is almost suicide to eat fruit and vegetable food at the same time."

"In yeast and bread making," continued the lady, "there may be more said than on any other subject of cookery. In the first place, new bread made by fermentation is not fit to eat. It should be at least twenty-four hours old before it is introduced into the human system for absorption. On the other hand, we have a system of bread-making that does away with all the evils of yeast and acids. I refer to the unleavened bread."

"You mean the biscuit of the railway restaurant?"

"No, I mean bread raised in snowy flakiness without yeast or baking powders of any kind. Never heard of that? Well, it is a fine thing. It is done by beating and working the dough until it becomes porous. It makes the most healthy bread known to the school of hygiene."

"How about puddings, custards, pies and other deadly substances?"

"I was just going to speak of that. Will teach you or your wife, or anybody else just how to make desserts without bringing on an immediate funeral. That is one of our last lessons, and you ought to attend that by all means. It will pave your way to much future happiness. Besides teaching the science of cooking, we give lessons in the making of fires without blowing up the stove with kerosene, and in cleaning of the kitchen and pantry. No branch of cookery is forgotten."

Following is a partial list of the members of the present cooking class: Mrs. F. L. McClure, principal; Mrs. Osterwalthe, Mrs. Hickox, Miss Louisa Smith, Miss Emma Kern, Miss Anna Hammond, J. H. Montrose, Mrs. Hampton, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. McElhany, J. M. Abel, Mrs. A. D. Benton, Miss Alice Penworth, Miss Abel, J. C. Martin, Mrs. Tay, N. J. Wilkson, Miss Florence St. John, Miss Tillie Farnsworth, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Nordyke, Mrs. Bond, Mrs. Owen, Mrs. A. Howard, Mrs. Lake, Mrs. William Powers, Mrs. S. Hagger, Mrs. A. W. Bartlett.

School for Canvassers.

Under the direction and guidance of S. N. Curtis, the school for canvassers and workers in the field of Adventist literature goes bravely on in a large tent at the head of the main avenue. The course of study embraces all branches of introductory and explanatory remarks concerning any work that may be desired to be put forward. The work of instruction is most thorough and exhaustive from beginning to end. There are at present about fifty members in the class.

Ghizzo and His Dog.

The bristly white dog Popa sat in a corridor of the City Hall today, while his master, the fiery looking Italian gardener, Ghizzo Lorenzo, sweltered in the Police Courtroom during his trial on a charge of battery. Tommy Kilgallon, a little boy, accused the gardener of sicking Popa upon him and causing him to bite him. This constituted the battery. The jury disagreed.

Burke's Battery.

Martin Burke and Louis Bender had a row at Emeryville and Burke was arrested for battery, and put up $25 bail.

A LIVELY FUNERAL

Trouble Over the Corpse of Mrs. Santine.

CORDELIA HAS GREAT ASPIRATIONS.

John Santine Kicked Out of the House Wherein His Wife Laid Cold in Death.

The troubles of the Santine-Richardson-Springston-Smith families would fill a book and make interesting reading matter. For years these families have been quarreling, and have been brought into court on many occasions. But the war has not as yet ended. Mrs. Santine is dead, but her relatives had a lively time over her corpse. Her body now lies in a vault at the Mountain View Cemetery, because there is a quarrel going on over the place where she shall be buried. A few weeks ago Mrs. Santine left her husband, John Santine, and went to live with her sister, Mrs. Cordelia Springston. She was taken ill and last Monday died from pneumonia. Her 3 year old child was taken charge of by Mrs. Springston and Cordelia had aspirations to raise the little one. But John Santine does not admire his sister-in-law, Cordelia, and demurred. Yesterday afternoon was the time set for the funeral of Mrs. Santine. John Santine and his brother-in-law, O. Lubbock, went to the house of Mrs. Springston, and when they learned that a Methodist minister had been engaged to conduct the funeral services they objected and wanted a Baptist minister. But Cordelia was firm and would have her own way. Then Santine demanded his child and wanted some of his wife's personal property. Finally the offer was made that Lubbock, Santine, and old man Richardson should go into a room together and settle all disputes concerning the child and property. About this time Mrs. Jessie Smith put in an appearance and remarked to Santine: "There's the man who has been the cause of all this trouble." This was the signal for a general whoop-up on the part of the house of Richardson. Santine and Lubbock were seized and thrown bodily out of the house. As Santine was flying through the air he felt a hard kick from behind, and when he landed on the sidewalk he found it a difficult matter to walk, and even more difficult to sit down. In a room in the house the body of Mrs. Santine lay cold in death. Santine and Lubbock had met the enemy, but they came not with olive branches. The funeral services proceeded, and the Methodist minister conducted the services. While the funeral was in progress John Santine was not idle. He made a flank movement on Mrs. Springston and swore out a writ of habeas corpus for the custody of his child. When Mrs. Springston returned from the funeral she was met by the Sheriff and ordered to bring the child into court at four o'clock. She responded, and upon hearing the evidence, Judge Gibson decided that the father is entitled to the possession of his child and Santine took his little one, and as he departed from the courtroom gave a triumphant look at his old time enemy, Cordelia. But the war is not as yet ended and Santine is only victor for a day. The body of Mrs. Santine still lies in the vault until the dispute about where she will be buried is settled.

WHAT ARE WORDS WORTH?

Dr. Crowley's Philanthropic Offer to the City.

If his Criticism of the Council has a Good Effect It is Valued at $150 per Month.

Members of the City Council do not like to be criticized equally as well as they like to criticize. When Health Officer Crowley at the last meeting of the Board of Health vigorously commented upon the disregard of the Council of every recommendation of the Board of Health, and suggested that when some of them "will have exhausted their oratory and will have finished relating their own biographies, it is possible they may serve the city with more strength," he uttered words that provoked to anger the very Councilmen who have been most prolific in their criticisms of every public officer except themselves. These Councilmen cannot remove the Health Officer from his position, though they would like to have the power. He is the appointee of the Board of Health. But they have the power to fix his salary, and some of them have the intention of attempting to reduce the salary to so low a sum that the incumbent of the office would be compelled to resign. A resolution was prepared on Monday evening providing for reduction of his salary to $50 per month. The salary now is $150 per month, but the Health Officer is compelled to pay for the medicine given the indigent sick and the prisoners in the City Prison. The resolution was not introduced at the last meeting, but it may be introduced.

When Dr. Crowley was informed this morning that a resolution reducing his salary to $50 per month had been prepared, he laughed heartily and then said, "If anything I have said produces any good moral effect upon the Council, the value to the city would be more than $100 per month, in fact, would be worth at least $150 a month. While I am not much of a philanthropist, I should be willing, in the interest of the city, to have my salary stopped entirely, if what I have said has a good effect."

CURTIS'S CASH.

Sam'l of Posen Ordered to Appear in Court.

A short time since Swan, the painter, obtained a judgment for $1000 against M. B. Curtis, better known as Sam'l of Posen. An execution was issued, but the Sheriff could find no property of the play actor upon which to levy, so the judgment remains unsatisfied. Judge Ellsworth this afternoon made an order requiring Curtis to appear before him tomorrow morning and undergo an examination as to what he has done with his property.

Exercise for the Horses.

A fire was burning between 12 and 1 o'clock today in a roller for packing pavements, near the corner of Twenty-first and Market streets. A man saw the smoke rising from behind a house and thought the house on fire. He turned in an alarm and the Fire Department had a pleasant but useless drive in the heat of the day.

IN PRESBYTERY.

An Oakland Presbytery May Be Formed

By Dividing Alameda and Contra Costa Counties From San Francisco—Reports.

At the afternoon session yesterday the Presbytery recommended that Mr. Shields, who was adopted by the organization, be granted pecuniary aid in the prosecution of his studies. Mr. Dalziel did not ask aid, but will take a course in the State University independent of the Presbytery, and will afterwards attend the Presbyterian Seminary.

Dr. Frazier of the Presbyterian Seminary arose to a question of privilege. He said the seminary had been assailed as not being an institution of adequate learning. He denied the assertion, claiming that the seminary is a thoroughly equipped institution of learning and quite capable of educating clergymen for the Presbyterian pulpit.

The call of Rev. Franklin Rhoda as pastor to the South San Francisco Presbyterian Church, at a salary of $900 per annum, was read and passed.

A call from the Berkeley Presbyterian Church to Rev. W. C. Falconer of Springfield, O., was read, and the petition for the congregation to prosecute the call was granted.

Rev. A. J. Kerr moved to reconsider the vote by which the proposition to revise the confession of faith was postponed until the December assembly.

Mr. Rice said he did not think it would be treating the assembly with proper respect to go ahead and consider it and vote on the question in a hurry.

The motion required a two thirds vote, and the moderator decided that there was two thirds more noise on the affirmative than on the negative side. The motion was declared carried.

On the question of the revision of faith, Dr. Loomis said that he was in favor of leaving the confession of faith as it was.

Dr. Mathews and Dr. Frazier answered the question in the negative.

A majority of the Presbytery expressed themselves in favor of permitting the confession to stand as it is. Some seemed to consider a limited revision advisable at a later day. Others thought it possible to improve some of the sections of the confession, as some of the forms of speech and expressions were obsolete, to make it plain to modern forms of thought. The doctrine need not be altered.

Dr. Chapman thought that the phraseology ought to be changed. Language and forms of expression had changed, and some portions of the confession needed revision.

Dr. McKenzie of San Francisco said that he was opposed to revision.

Mr. Kerr thought the discussion at large over the question had strengthened the Presbyterian Church. He thought that theological strife would be augmented if an attempt was made to revise the confession.

Rev. J. C. Smith favored revision as nine out ten of the laity were unfamiliar with the confession.

Rev. H. A. Lounsbury said that a part of the confession had been revised three times already and he was heartily in favor of revision.

Of the elders of the church present a majority favored the confession remaining as it is.

Dr. Shearer offered a resolution as follows: That this Presbytery answer the overture of the General Assembly on the subject, "Revision of the Confession of Faith" by a negative response to the first question contained in said overture.

Dr. Chapman offered an amendment that an affirmative answer be substituted for Dr. Shearer's negative, and added, "only in phraseology and proof texts, without any change in doctrine."

Dr. Chapman's substitute was lost and Dr. Shearer's resolution prevailed.

The Inquiry Committee recommended that the resignation of Mr. Gardiner of the Presbyterian Church of San Pablo be accepted. The report was adopted.

The election of the Commissioners to the General Assembly was postponed until the December meeting.

The various committees on routine matters sent in their reports, which were received and placed on file.

A question of separating the Presbyterian churches of Alameda and Contra Costa counties from the Presbytery of San Francisco and forming a new Presbytery, was brought up and caused considerable discussion.

Rev. Dr. Horton introduced the motion for division and asked that it be made the special order for Monday morning at the session of the Presbytery in San Francisco.

Elder Roberts moved to lay the motion on the table.

Dr. Horton asked the elder to withdraw his motion. There were sixteen churches on this side of the bay. It it was the right thing to do, the resolution was all right. It was not proper for one brother to slap another in the face. If the Presbytery compelled the churches here to act as was proposed it would be better that the proceedings be amicable.

Elder Roberts declined to withdraw his motion.

On a vote Elder Roberts' motion was lost.

After some discussion, in the course of which Elder Roberts said he had not meant to slap anybody in the face, Dr. Horton's motion was made the special order for Monday.

B. L. Aldrich was granted a letter of dismission to the Puget Sound Presbytery.

The report of the Committee on Foreign Missions was read: Membership in 1889 5047; contributions, $4157; increase in six years, 243 members; $931 in funds. During the past year membership had increased 468, and the contributions to the Foreign Mission funds had decreased $36. The report was adopted.

The First Presbyterian Church of Klinknerville was permitted to change its name to the First Presbyterian Church of Golden Gate.

The Presbytery then adjourned, to meet on Monday at Calvary Church, San Francisco.

COLLINS GETS A RAISE.

The West Oakland Councilman Elected to an Important Office.

Councilman H. M. Collins has been re-elected Supreme Assistant Treasurer of the Order of Chosen Friends, and his salary has been increased from $600 to $1000 a year.

A Terrific Ranch Fire.

A furious fire, originating from a sheepherder's careless use of his pipe, swept over the great San Joaquin ranch, Orange county, last evening, and also cut across the ranch of David Hewes of this city. There were twenty-five miles of flame in view at one time and the scene was reported as the grandest ever known in that country. The loss, necessarily heavy, has not been estimated.

THE MARCH OF PROGRESS.

An Institution of Interest to Oaklanders.

It is at all times the duty of a reputable newspaper to inform its readers of all things within its knowledge that may be interesting and useful to them in pursuance of this policy the following facts are given to the reading public in the hope that they will receive due consideration. The New England Tea Company is established at 476 Tenth street, this city, and this fact is of vital interest to all families, restaurants and hotels. They have in stock all the best brands of teas on the market, and these they are prepared to sell at wholesale prices in lots from five pounds and upward. Of course, as their establishment is extensive, floating a large capital in the trade, they can handle the best brands of teas and coffees at the lowest possible margin of profit. The prices are below those of other tea stores all along the line, and yet, with every five pounds of tea purchased they give a present of eleven pounds of best loaf sugar; with every one pound of tea they give TWO pounds of loaf sugar.

The members of the firm are all expert judges of teas and coffees, and by their fair and honorable dealings they have created an immense trade. They are not connected with any other tea company in Oakland, but devote all their time and energies to their own constantly increasing trade.

Mrs. C. E. Chittenden entertained a large company of ladies at luncheon in her spacious home on Friday last. The decorations of the walls, doorways and mantel with branches of bamboo, combined with a profusion of pink oleanders and pink roses by the hands of several of the young ladies, made the rooms seem pleasant and beautiful in their attractiveness. Small tables were distributed among the company at 1:30 P. M. and an elaborate repast served by half a dozen charming young ladies. Several musical selections, both vocal and instrumental, were given during the afternoon, which added much to the enjoyment of the occasion. The invited guests were: Mesdames Cameron, Davis, Sutherland, Cole, Bunting, Barclay, Rockwell, Crocker, Plummer, Crump, Swett, Overacker senior and junior, Patterson, Brier senior and junior of Centreville, Haley and Jarvis of Newark, Clough, Tilden, Sanborn, Thane, R. Last Wednesday morning Mr. Joseph A. Nichols, one of the oldest residents of this section, died at his home in this place, at the age of 75 years. Mr. Nichols took a trip East early in the spring, but was quite ill during the journey, and returned home in failing health. His sister came on from her home in New Jersey to be present at his bedside, but, with the best of care and the advice of physicians, he grew worse, until his sickness ended in death. The funeral services were held on Friday morning at the Episcopal Church in Centerville, Rev. T. G. Crump officiating, with burial in the Presbyterian Church ground. The church was filled by friends and neighbors, gathered together to pay their last tribute of respect to the deceased. Mr. Nichols leaves a daughter and four sons, the former being the wife of William Champion of Niles. Mr. Nichols came to San Francisco from New York on the ship Brooklyn, which arrived August 1, 1846. He was one of the founders of the first public school in San Francisco. By trade Mr. Nichols was a brick mason, and for a long time he built all the ovens and chimneys for the settlers. Early in the fall of '46 he went to Mormon island with a party of prospectors in search of gold. He returned to San Francisco and later removed to Niles in 1851, where he has since lived on his fruit farm. He was a man of considerable wealth and a member of the Society of California Pioneers. The oldest son, Martin D. Nichols, is said to be the first American child born in San Francisco in the year 1847.

STARTLING EVIDENCE

Of the Cure of Skin Diseases when all Other Methods Fail.

Psoriasis 5 years, covering face, head, and entire body with white scabs. Skin red, itchy, and bleeding. Hair all gone. Spent hundreds of dollars. Pronounced incurable. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My disease psoriasis first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed. It then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT and one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I thought the disease would leave a very deep scar, but the CUTICURA REMEDIES cured it without any scars. I cannot express what a joy what I suffered before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. I know a number of different persons who have used the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and all have received great benefit from their use.

Precautions in Building Dams.

George F. Weeks of San Francisco, writes to Garden and Forest to combat the idea that there is danger of the bursting of dams constructed for the storage of water in California. Mr. Weeks is as well acquainted with the existing irrigation systems of the State as any man within its limits, and he points out that in those portions of the State requiring irrigation, excessive and sudden rainfall is of rare occurrence. He says:

The builders of the reservoirs now in existence have taken care to guard against any contingency on this account. These reservoirs are never established in water-courses liable to heavy floods. The most expensive affair of the kind in California is the immense reservoir known as Lake Yosemite, in Merced county. This is fed from the Merced river, a stream familiar to all visitors in the Yosemite valley. Instead of being formed by the damming of that stream, this reservoir is situated at a distance of several miles from it, occupying a depression in the foothills. It is supplied with water through a canal 100 feet wide and ten feet in depth, and the flow of water is regulated by a massive and substantial system of head-gates, by which at no time, even when the water in the river is at its highest, can more than is desirable find its way into the reservoir. The lake, as it is called, was formed by the construction of an earth embankment 4000 feet long, across the lower side of a depression in the rolling foothills. This embankment is 250 feet thick at the base, and tapers gradually until, at the crown, the width is twenty feet. The highest point is some sixty feet above the plain below. The water face of the embankment is riprapped so as to prevent erosion. It is estimated that over 300,000 acres of land can be irrigated from this reservoir, upon which something like two million dollars was expended.

He goes on to describe the big storage reservoir at Bear Valley, San Bernardino county, which was formed by damming a deep canyon through which a little rivulet flowed. The great Sweetwater dam in San Diego is of similar construction, and in neither case are there ever any violent storms which might endanger the safety of the dam.

This reasoning applies with a great deal of force to the Southern part of the State where the annual rainfall does not exceed twelve inches, but it scarcely touches the case of the big mining reservoirs of the mountains, which have, in fact, more than once gone out, without any very serious damage, it is true, beyond the destruction of the dam, for the obvious reason that there was nothing in the way of the escaping water. Nor does the reasoning apply to the big catchment reservoirs now making for the supply of the cities of the State which lie in the path of storms, which precipitate upwards of an inch of water in twenty-four hours, continuing sometimes for three or four or five days at a time. At Lake Chabot the Contra Costa Water Company, recognizing the remote possibility of danger of this sort, have gone to the expense of $100,000 to construct a tunnel of ample dimensions to relieve any pressure of this sort, and similar precautions should be insisted on in all such cases. Such reservoirs, besides the catchment of the adjoining area, usually receive the waters of some considerable brook draining a large country, sometimes bare of trees or brush. The question of the destruction of forests, which provoked the discussion, does not closely touch the existing reservoirs of California, because nearly all of them so far have been constructed in sparsely timbered regions, but the work is only beginning. The whole of the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys will in time be irrigated from reservoirs in the foothills of the Sierra. There are two dangers to be guarded against: The mitigation of the force of the immense and towering watershed behind the reservoirs and the protection of the forests which soften the flow. The first of these dangers has been avoided at Merced by deflecting the current of the river, and if this precaution is taken the hazard is not great. But the destruction of the forests goes on without check.

A STORY which would lend itself admirably to dramatic treatment comes from Fillmore, Ind. A certain Mrs. Iddings, while her husband was attending a lodge meeting, took her children and went to her father's home at Frankfort, where divorce proceedings were instituted by her. Last week she returned to Putnam County to take depositions to be used in the approaching trial; meanwhile one of the children was taken sick, and both parents were summoned to the bedside, reaching there only a short time before the death of the little one. This week the parties were again in Putnam County seeking depositions, but the loss of the child awakened reflections, a compromise was reached, and they are again under one roof, a reunited family. This is exactly the sort of family drama which people have been accustomed to indicate as belonging to what is known as the Madison square school.

THE Stockton Police Commission is having a wrestle with the new city charter, in the course of which their bravery has been more conspicuous than their discretion. Under the new Stockton charter the city is allowed one policeman to each 1000 of population. The Police Commission, under this provision, decided that the population of Stockton is 15,000, warranting the appointment of four additional officers. The Auditor, however, refused to draw warrants for the quartet upon the ground that the last census, that of 1880, showed a population of only 10,282. An agreed statement was submitted to the Superior Court on Tuesday last and all parties will abide by the decision. The Police Commission claim that the vote of recent years shows 15,000 and a directory accounting 18,000. Imagine asking a court to take judicial notice of a city directory, or of the supposed relation between the number of votes cast and the total population. By and by the Stockton commission will discover the Murphy act relating to police pensions, and will have some more fun with that. As things are now the municipal official does not know when he is sitting down on a tack.

WE had occasion to tell the other day the story of the capture of Belfast by a suppositiously hostile fleet during the British naval maneuvres and of the respectful manner in which the conquering Admiral addressed the local Bumbledom and promised to behave himself, but this was not the only ridiculous incident growing out of this home made war. The Anson, one of the most powerful battle ships, claimed to have captured Aberdeen and demanded a ransom of £500,000, but the authorities declined to be captured or to pay ransom, and peppered away at the Anson from their small batteries. The Anson, instead of demolishing the place with her heavy guns, made one reply with a small gun and then steamed away as rapidly as possible. Then it became known that the electric gear of her big guns had gone wrong and they could not be worked. Like Moliere's serving maid, the Aberdeen people would not play according to the rules of the game and acknowledge their moral defeat. Such a way of fighting is most ungentlemanly.

On the Summit.

Come, let us climb the star encircled hills,
Wrapt in the purple shadows of the night,
And mount the ladder leading to the white,
Calm face of her whose smile the valley fills:
There lie the sources of the silver rills,
That streak the slopes with a melodious light,
And there the world awaits the morning bright
And drinks the nectar that the sky distills.

There, like the prophet upon Nebo's crest,
Our eyes shall glimpse the promised land afar,
Out of the darkness gradually drawn;
There, at the gate dividing East from West,
Shall we behold the last departing star,
And be the first to welcome in the dawn.

Edward Bellamy, the clever young Boston Nationalist, has written a sketch called "With the Eyes Shut." By keeping the eyes shut one is able to see things as they are not and as he wants to have them. A SHAKING.

Mrs. Ayers Denies That It Was Anything More.

The following letter appeared in a local paper this morning:

Dear Sir—Being a regular reader of your paper and a stranger in this city, I would like to inquire through your columns if assistant teachers employed in the public schools of the city of Oakland are permitted to punish pupils by violently shaking them by the arms and pulling their ears and hair. A little girl of the Seventh grade of the Franklin Grammar school was shaken so violently by her teacher, Mrs. Hattie Ayres, on Wednesday last as to cause her arm to swell greatly and be discolored from the elbow to the shoulder. She had also pulled her ears and hair until her head ached violently. If such cruelty to little children is allowable, I will ask to be excused from educating my little girl in this Athens of America.

A RESIDENT OF EAST OAKLAND.
East Oakland, September 23, 1889.

A TRIBUNE reporter visited the Franklin school this morning and saw Mrs. Ayers. When shown the communication she said she recollected the occurrence very well, but did not expect such prominence would be given it. The pupil in question was little Edna Smith, who, Mrs. Ayers says, is very unruly and hard to manage. She has often found it necessary to correct the little one and on this occasion she took the little girl by the arm and led her back to her seat. The child was obstinate and Mrs. Ayers found it necessary to use some force, but she had no intention of injuring the child. As to pulling hair, this the teacher denies. The parents of the child wrote a communication to Principal Chandler, who replied that he regretted the occurrence very much. The matter has also been reported to Superintendent McClymonds, but it will probably not be investigated, as Mrs. Ayers has never been complained of before and teachers and scholars alike all speak in the highest terms of her.

ROSH-HASHANAH.

Celebration of the Jewish New Year by the Hebrews.

The celebration of the 5650th anniversary of the creation, otherwise known as the Jewish New Year, by the Hebrew congregations will begin at sundown today. The opening divine service will be at the Synagogue at 5:30 P. M., and these services will continue at regular intervals until Friday night.

Rosh-Hashanah is the first of the ten days of penitence, in which special prayers are offered. The Sabbath occurring within the period is known as the Sabbath of Penitence and is strictly observed.

Tomorrow morning Rabbi Levy will preach on "The Call of the Times." One of the chief features of this observance will be the music, to which the choir has paid very careful attention and has been considerably strengthened for the occasion. All Jewish business men will close their places of business during the celebration.

FIRE AND POLICE.

The Board Will Not Investigate the Chief.

Repairs Needed for the Fire Alarm System—Hose to Be Tested—Some Minor Matters.

At a meeting of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners yesterday afternoon the following communication from Chief of Police Tompkins was received and ordered on file:

"In consequence of there having been much newspaper and street talk in regard to the so-called mismanagement of this department, which perhaps has resulted in instilling into the minds of some a belief that such charges are not without foundation, I would respectfully and earnestly request that your honorable body set an early day upon which to hear testimony and thoroughly investigate the same."

George H. Carleton, City Electrician, requested the board to provide a new non-interfering automatic repeater provided with fifteen signal and ten striking circuits for the fire alarm telegraph office. It will require about six months to make the instrument, and as the present repeater is worn out and unreliable he urged that the new instrument be purchased at once. The cost of such an instrument is about $2500. Filed. Chief Engineer Kennedy urged the board to get the machine without delay and the City Council was asked to authorize the board to make the purchase at once.

At the request of Chief of Police Tompkins, Samuel Jones, a watchman at the Piedmont cable car house, was appointed a special police officer. Secretary Douty of the Pacific Improvement Company notified the board that permission was granted to erect a steam fire whistle at the cable road engine house on San Pablo avenue. The City Council was requested to authorize the board to erect the whistle at a cost of not more than $85.

The California Fire Apparatus Manufacturing Company renewed its proposal to deliver to the city free of expense 1500 feet of Monarch fire hose with permission to fully test the same.

The board then discussed the communication from Chief Tompkins asking for an investigation of his department, and the opinion prevailed that the charges were actuated by spite, and that they would not be investigated unless written charges were formally preferred.

J. W. Girvin & Co., through a representative, notified the board that 1000 feet of hose had been shipped from Boston on Saturday, and would arrive in about two weeks, for use in the Oakland Department. The reason of the delay was that the hose had been specially manufactured.

The board then adjourned.

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

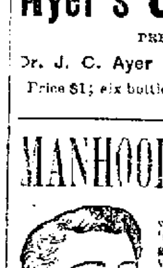

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

TWO QUESTIONS.

The Presbytery of San Francisco Discussing Changes.

CHANGING THE CONFESSION OF FAITH.

The Dividing of the Presbytery of San Francisco to Increase the Work.

Way out in East Oakland, in the little Centennial Church, the Presbytery of San Francisco has been in session for two days past. They have been going about their work quietly, but have, nevertheless, considered two very important questions.

One question that arose was the division of the Presbytery of San Francisco, cutting off Alameda and Contra Costa counties into the Presbytery of Oakland. This was brought up by Rev. F. A. Horton of the First Presbyterian Church of Oakland, who introduced a resolution asking advice and discussion on the question, and it will be discussed and acted upon next Monday, to which time the Presbytery has adjourned. Dr. Horton was asked this morning what prospects there were for the division of the Presbytery, and what the reasons were for its division.

"There has always been some talk of cutting Contra Costa and Alameda counties off from the Presbytery of San Francisco. When I came here seven years ago the matter was brought up, and I opposed it most radically. There was no reason for it at that time. It was simply a sentimental idea and amounted to nothing. Now the time has come, in my opinion and in the opinion of many others, and we have invited discussion upon the subject.

"The reason for this is the fact that Oakland and the vicinity is growing very materially. Cable roads are cutting up the town, suburban property is being sold, and cities are springing up in various places in the neighborhood. In the past year four new churches have come into being in Oakland, and our work is spreading out over a great deal of territory, so that we have all the work that we can attend to here. Then the committee meetings are almost all held in San Francisco, and it consumes a great deal of our time to go to San Francisco and attend these meetings. It takes an entire afternoon, and our churches have a right to complain. By having these two counties set apart we could do much more work in the same time we are now compelled to give. We could do it more satisfactorily too, for I cannot give the time necessary to keep myself informed about the condition of churches in the suburbs of San Francisco, and it stands to reason that the San Francisco pastors must be in the same condition as to us. There is another thing. I know of several places where, if I had the money, I could establish churches in Oakland. I believe that if the Presbytery was divided that it would make us more self reliant over here, and that this money would be forthcoming if they knew how and where it was to be expended.

"Personally we would like to remain united. It is much pleasanter to meet together, but it is a question of perfecting the church organization and making the work lighter and more effective, and keeping up with the material march of progress in Oakland. There is little difference between the number of churches on the two sides of the bay. San Francisco has eighteen churches and Alameda and Contra Costa have sixteen. There is no dissension whatever."

Another proposition that was submitted to the Presbytery was the changing of the confession of faith of the church.

Dr. Horton also explained this.

"At the last meeting of the General Assembly, which is the supreme council of the church, there was a proposition submitted from fifteen presbyteries to change the phraseology of the confession of faith. These fifteen presbyteries, out of about 185 in the United States, were strong enough to influence the General Assembly to take notice of their demand, and they submitted to the various presbyteries, for their answer, two questions. The first was: 'Do you desire the confession of faith changed?' The second was: 'In what particular do you wish it changed?' This was very definite, and we had to answer the first question with yes or no. Now, we all thought that there were some little particulars where the creed could be changed slightly, but we said that it was almost impossible to obtain a document that would exactly suit every man, and so, rather than have any trouble over it we voted no with a qualifying statement that while in some cases the phraseology was not exactly as we would like it, still we accepted the creed for the substance of the pure word of God as found in the Scriptures.

"There is some things that it is said would be better if the phraseology or wording should be changed a little in order to meet more fully the beliefs of the church, but we considered that it would be abridging our mental liberties, and while we were working well with the harness fitting loosely, we did not care to have the lines drawn any tighter. We wanted to accept the word of God as our belief and to be allowed to put our own phraseology upon it. There are some things that they wanted to change. For instance, the Westminster creed was framed when the Catholic Church was rampant, and they refer to the Pope as a man of sin. They would like to change this. Then the question of "Elect infants" worries some people.

TIME ALL TAKEN.

Professor Jones Declines to Debate With Mr. Wendte.

Professor Alonzo T. Jones, who was recently challenged by Rev. C. W. Wendte to a debate on the Sunday Rest petition, has announced that he can accept no more challenges to debate for the present. His entire time for the next two weeks, he says, will be taken up by the Adventist camp meeting, now in progress, and after that he has engagements in Oregon and the Eastern States, which will require all his time for some time to come. It is to be regretted that Mr. Jones could not accept this challenge, as he would have, doubtless, found in Mr. Wendte a foeman worthy of his steel.

BAD BREAKS.

Two Men Who Are Out of Luck Just Now.

Dr. Woolsey received two new patients at his hospital yesterday. One was John Greaney, a freight brakeman, who fell beneath train No. 26 at San Leandro last night, receiving some very serious cuts about his head and having his left hand frightfully mangled. The arm was amputated near the elbow, and the patient is resting easily today.

A machinist named Vlietsteppe [illegible] from a moving car in the railroad yards yesterday afternoon, and received a fracture of both bones of the right leg. Drs. Hook, Taylor, and Woolsey attended to reducing the fracture at the hospital.

Mrs. Scanlon's Ball.

George D. Burbank lives in Lorin. He says Mrs. Jennie Scanlon disturbed his peace. She deposited $10 bail. The bail was forfeited yesterday.

THE FESTIVE TEREDO.

How It Has Been Devastating the Eighth Street Bridge Piling.

The Board of Public Works Has a Big Job on Their Hands to Repair That Bridge.

The Board of Public Works has suddenly discovered that instead of having a little job of a thousand or perhaps two thousand dollars, they will have to almost entirely rebuild the Eighth street bridge.

At the meeting of the Board of Public Works last night Engineer Morgan had a nicely written and illustrated report, with diagrams of piles eaten by the teredo. He told how he and his assistant had, at the risk of their lives, launched a flat-bottomed skiff on the mud under the bridge. He discovered that 100 were partially eaten and twenty badly eaten. In addition, there are eighty or ninety piles that he could not reach, making from 200 to 211 that are pretty badly gone. He advises that 200 of them be replaced. The cost of driving and purchasing these will be $12 each, or about $2400.

Street Superintendent Wall reported the following work completed during the week: Grading, curbing, and macadamizing West street from Twenty-sixth to Thirty-sixth streets, and of East Fifteenth street from Sixteenth to Nineteenth avenues.

"W. A. Knowles, to whom was awarded the contract for grading and macadamizing Webster avenue, from Broadway to the city limits, has forfeited said contract by having failed to furnish satisfactory security for the faithful performance of the work.

"I have reported this to the City Council, and recommended the readvertising of the work.

"Also the failure to pay his employes has compelled Mr. Knowles to stop work on the Broadway contracts, as his laborers have refused to proceed until their wages, now due, are paid."

Mrs. Julia Pennoyer has left a very dangerous cut in her sidewalk on Thirty-fifth and Grove streets.

The Piedmont Cable Road was granted permission to lay their material in the streets, but so as not to obstruct travel.

Various demands against the Street and Educational Departments and the city were ordered paid.

Then the board adjourned and listened to Mr. Morgan tell them about the teredo, and his actions and the best methods of disposing of him. Mr. Morgan wanted the bridge repaired as a necessity, and Mr. Martin remarked:

"The time for temporary wooden structures is passed, and the time is near when we will have to have something more permanent over the estuary."

Mr. Morgan said he had a plan by which the portion of the piles eaten by the teredo could be encased in an iron cylinder filled with sand, as the teredo will not work in the mud. He told how the Southern Pacific Company creosote their piles, and how iron piles are used by some.

ALAMEDA.

Oser's Bad Scrape—Real Estate Appreciates.

It now may be several months before the work of improving Pacific avenue is commenced.

W. E. Noy will soon commence the erection of a two story business structure at Bay street station.

Samuel Day has purchased the bakery of Mrs. Prescott on Park street, near Encinal avenue. He will take charge of the business on October 1st.

Two years ago Columbus Bartlett purchased the property at the southwest corner of Park street and Railroad avenue for $26,000. A few days ago he refused $35,000 for it.

Supervisor Martin starts on his journey to Washington, D. C., to attend the Knights Templar Conclave, next Sunday. He will then visit the scenes of his babyhood in Connecticut.

The Britt Hotel at the corner of Webster street and Central avenue has changed hands. It is said to be the purchaser's intention to renovate it throughout and open a first-class resort.

The bridge across Brickyard slough on High street will be torn down and a new one, four feet wider, will be erected, the cost to be jointly paid by the city of Alameda and the county. It will be in the neighborhood of $700.

Captain W. D. Littlboy, employed in the office of Wells, Fargo & Co.'s Express, San Francisco, and Miss Kate Smith, daughter of City Assessor E. Minor Smith, will be united in marriage tomorrow evening at the residence of the young lady's parents, on Buena Vista avenue.

Varney W. Gaskill has sold to J. A. Leonard ten lots in the block bounded by San Jose and San Antonio avenues and Union and Lafayette streets. It is said to be the intention of Mr. Leonard to build residences on the lots and sell them on the installment plan.

S. H. Bruns, who has a quarry near Petaluma, is desirous of paving Pacific avenue, Alameda, with his rock which is of the basalt variety. He sent a specimen to Professor Henry G. Hanks, the State Mineralogist, to determine whether the rock was also a trap rock, the only kind the present Board of City Trustees allows to be used on the streets in Alameda. The mineralogist decided the material to be a trap rock.

Police Officer Foley yesterday swore to a complaint charging Joseph Oser with assault with a deadly weapon. As Foley was leaving the Neptune Gardens at a late hour last Sunday night Oser struck Foley on the head with a piece of scantling. Oser was taken into custody by Officer Schroeder, and in default of furnishing bail in the sum of $500 or $1000 bonds, was taken to the County Jail. Oser has been employed in the meat market of P. Gochnauer at the West End, and prides himself upon his pugilistic attainments, but as yet has not displayed himself to any good advantage. He realizes that he has got himself into a bad "box," and states that if he gets out of this scrape he will endeavor to lead a life which is proper for a Native Son.

Nixon's Axe.

Justice Snook yesterday held Lewis Nixon to answer before the Superior Court for assault with a deadly weapon upon J. H. Wells, the deadly weapon being an axe. Bail was fixed at $1000.

Judgment for Sarsfield.

J. P. Sarsfield has been given judgment against H. C. Goodridge for $78.90.

HE WORKED IN OAKLAND.

One of the Heffernans Talked of as a Cronin Suspect.

SEATTLE, Wash., September 24.—The Journal this morning publishes an interview with J. J. Heffernan, who was mentioned in late Chicago dispatches as being the man who was identified as the person who induced Cronin to visit the Carlson cottage. Heffernan is at present working as a longshoreman in this city and has been here since July 1st. When seen today he said:

"I am the party referred to. My name is John Joseph Heffernan. They say that I was the man that lured Dr. Cronin to his death; that I was a friend of ex-Sheriff Tom Desmond of San Francisco, and that Desmond brought me to Chicago and after settling me there went on to Washington. Now there is nothing in the story at all. Before I came here I used to work in a planing mill at Oakland, Cal. The same mill that blew up a little over two weeks ago. I had lived in Oakland nearly all my life and figured in campaign times about ward clubs. Everybody down there knows Jack Heffernan. I had always been a friend of Tom Desmond and worked for him in San Francisco when he ran for Sheriff on the Workingman's ticket.

When the papers got to talking about the Cronin case they said that Desmond had a hand in doing up the Doctor. When this came out I was in Hannifin's saloon, on the corner of Seventh and Broadway streets, in Oakland, and I announced myself pretty strongly. I had been a Clan-na-Gael and a United Irishman and said so. I denounced the attempt of the Chicago officers to fasten the crime on Sullivan, Desmond and the Irish societies. A reporter named Flynn, who was in the saloon, came into the mill the next day to see me and wanted to talk about the Cronin case, but I knew nothing about it. He accused me of being associated with the case, but I laughed him out of the place. Next day, on August 8th, I left Oakland and came here with my partner, Larry Brennan, on the steamer Umatilla. Of course, I left Oakland rather suddenly, and Flynn, finding this out, made up the rest of the story.

Heffernan said he would enjoy a trip to Chicago, but would dislike to be kept in jail there. He tells a straightforward story and is a bright-looking Irishman of about thirty-five years of age and has been in America seven years.

The second trial of the People of the State of California against Joseph Taylor will take place next Saturday afternoon, before Judge Little, beginning at 2 o'clock. All persons summoned as jurymen will do well to appear on time, as the Judge has concluded to fine every person who in the future fails to appear.

The Chinamen who were arrested by Constable Fonzo for keeping an opium den in the vicinity of Dwight way, are at large on $5 bail each. Judge Little states that he hardly expects them to appear next Saturday as instructed, and possibly it is just as well as it would be impossible to convict them. The two Chinamen rented the room in which they were found smoking, and this was their residence. There is no proof whatever that they ever invited others in to smoke, and consequently they could not be convicted. There is no law against a man smoking opium in his own house, but as soon as he invites a person in not resident there he lays himself liable to the law.

Many of the citizens of this town have expressed their gratitude to the correspondent of THE TRIBUNE for bringing before the public the subject of Allston way. Several papers have now taken up the matter, and it may be hoped that we will soon have the street mentioned opened to its full width and put in a respectable condition. As a general thing streets leading to and adjacent to State institutions are the best in the town or city. In this case there is an exception, as Allston way is, without exception, the worst street in the town. Several accidents have happened lately to vehicles passing on this street during the evening, and sooner or later some indignant person will be suing the property owners for damages.

Colonel Tom has just based a silk hat. The Colonels will follow suit.

Senator Moffitt has dubbed Smalley "the horse that will stand untied."

There is more interest taken in baseball matters in Oakland this year than ever before.

Walter Wallace, the popular and fair baseball writer, is a staunch friend of Roscoe Coughlan.

Danny Long has over eighty base steals to his credit. He is the leader in the league in this respect.

The champions have won twenty-eight out of thirty-two games they have played. That's why the people call them the pennant winners.

Roscoe Coughlan is still the king pitcher of the California League. His success in last Saturday's game has made the modest player more popular than ever.

Stallings was a grand find for the Colonel. When the fleet footed runner comes to the bat and exhibits his zebra shirt the pompiace always counts upon a run.

The members of the home nine attended the Athenian chirps in a body last Saturday night. They were greatly pleased over the baseball paper read by Ed Hamilton.

To Umpire Chipman:

His jarect Thomas Jones,
A promising umpire,
Who said in fearless tones,
"Three strikes," and went up higher.

The Cuba trip planned by Colonel Tom has flunked. He is now planning a trip into the interior, and proposes to visit Santa Cruz, San Jose, Petaluma, Santa Rosa, and other towns.

There are two great baseball factions in Oakland. One is headed by Roscoe Coughlan, Billy O'Brien, Will Hawkett, and Alexander Hirshberg, and the other by Colonel Robinson, Senator Moffitt, Tip O'Neill, and J. T. Moran. In the language of Bierce, "War is."

The Bostons are coming and will play their opening game on Thanksgiving Day. It is said that Mike Kelley and Dan Brouthers will not accompany the team. Then the Bostons had better stay at home. What would the Pets do in Boston without the Colonel?

The Colonel kissed the colored mascot last Sunday and then withdrew from the field. Rumor says that's why the boys won the game. It is declared that whenever Colonel Tom fails to kiss the colored lad the Pets come out losers.

The following extract from a sermon illustrates the fact that Dakota ministers are well versed in the intricacies of the national game:

"My Christian players, it is now time for you to begin to bat Satan's curves. Do not pound the air, but bat him over the fence. Get out on the diamond of Christianity and catch every fly made by Satan's men. You should make a home run for immortality and the side of right. No one bagger will tally on the great judgment sheet. Every player should make a score of earned runs for religion. Do not steal out too far from the base of righteousness and get out on third. The devil may hold the ball in his hand and deceive you and rub it in on you when you are not watching. Never, my Christian nine, never try to slide in on some member's faults. The errors made by other members of your club will not save you on second. Every Christian team stand on its own merits and good Christian playing. You should strike, for heaven's sake, right from the shoulder, and do not knock sky fouls for Satan's men to catch. Make no balks in your unerring faith, and on the great judgment day you will receive for your reward 75 per cent of the gate receipts.—Exchange.

Hardie has a mortgage on the gold medal offered to the leading batter, as well as on the gold watch to be given to the champion batsman at the end of the season. Lou still leads the league in batting, and is so far ahead of all competitors as to render it almost impossible for any of them to overtake him. Up to last Saturday he had played sixty-seven games, been at bat 301 times, scored eighty-three runs, stolen forty-one bases, made sixteen sacrifices, and 125 base hits, including twenty doubles, seventeen triples, and eight home runs. He had a batting average of .414, with a total base batting average of .567. In the sixty-seven games he had played he had failed in only seven to make a base hit. In the last seventeen games he had made thirty-eight base hits—an average of over two per game. Jerry Hurley says that the baseball enthusiasts in the East speak of him as "the greatest batter in the country." While the great controversy is going on in the Oakland dailies as to whether Coughlan's masterly pitching or O'Neill's wonderful generalship has won the most games for the "gilt edged aggregation of gentlemanly balltossers," it would, indeed, be interesting to know just how many games Lou Hardie has won by his terrific batting, to say nothing of his fine catching. In forty games he had sixty-six assists, the most of which were made by throwing out base runners who were presumptuous enough to attempt to "steal" on him.—Exchange.

ROSCOE'S FIGHTERS.

A $100 Chicken Dinner at the Blake House.

For some months past Roscoe Havens has taken a great pride in some thoroughbred cocks which he has been raising. They were fighters from away back, with a great pedigree. Roscoe's breast swelled with pride every time he showed friends the cocks, which were cooped in the rear of the Blake House. Mr. Havens resides at this place. Ah Kight is the cook at the Blake House. Last Sunday Mr. Kight thought he would surprise the boarders at the house and give them a chicken dinner. He did surprise them and so did he surprise Roscoe Havens. He killed ten game cocks and served them up for a Sunday dinner. Roscoe par took of the dinner. The guests did not relish the chickens, for they were tougher than leather. After Mr. Havens had picked the pieces of chicken from between his teeth he discovered that he had been dining on his game cocks. He had eaten a portion of a $100 dinner. Was he angry? Ask him. Does Ah Kight still enjoy himself on this mundane sphere? Ask Roscoe. Will Ah Kight kill any more game cocks? The guests at the Blake House say nay.

THE COMBINATION.

Dave Hirshberg Gives His Views on the Subject.

Dave Hirshberg has been a baseball crank for twenty years. He is still a baseball crank. He attends every game that is played at the Haight street park, therefore he is posted on all matters pertaining to the California League. Dave is a life member of the League. Al Havens is a great crank, but he can't beat Dave on his baseball record. There seems to be a wide difference of opinion between these two gentlemen in regard to the combination which is said to exist between the Stocktons and 'Friscos, who are endeavoring to down the Oaklands. Al maintains that such a combination does not exist, while Dave says that there is no truth in the statement. "Speaking candidly," said Mr. Hirshberg, "I do not believe that there is anything in this combination business. Both Harris and Finn have been in the baseball business a long time, and they are not working for glory. The pennant is a very small matter with them. It is dollars and cents they are after. They are smart enough to realize that if it should become known that a combination existed it would ruin baseball and the patronage would immediately fall off. Then again the combination could not be carried on without the players being advised of the scheme, and of course they would not keep the matter quiet. So from these facts I draw the conclusion that no combination exists between Stocktons and 'Friscos, as against Oakland."

ATHLETIC ARROWS.

Notes of Interest to the Local Athletes.

William Gallagher has been appointed teacher of boxing at the Brooklyn Athletic Club. A class has been formed, and the boys are working hard to become rivals of Dempsey, La Blanche, et al.

A juvenile boxing class has been formed at the Acme Athletic Club.

At the Reliance Club the athletes have not taken much interest in gymnasium exercises during the past week.

The Acme boys are preparing for their exhibition, which will be given on October 1st. The programme will be arranged to please the ladies.

The members of the Olympic Athletic Club of Alameda do not seem to make athletic matters lively across the estuary. The boys should give another exhibition just to keep the interest up in the club.

A QUITTER.

"Fair Play" Tells of Some Facts That Prevaricate.

Editor Sporting Column Tribune: I am not yet a back number and I have not entirely retired. I still want to see the Oaklands win the pennant and I still believe that Roscoe Coughlan will place them there. I simply want to call attention to two facts.

Colonel Robinson says Coughlan is a quitter.

Roscoe Coughlan went into the box on Saturday last when Wehrle had been batted out, and with a score of 7 to 5 and Charlie Sweeney, once the greatest pitcher in the world, against him, he pitched Oakland to victory. But two runs were made from him, while the Oaklands made four from Sweeney.

Yet he is a quitter. Either facts or, well, I guess the facts lie.

FAIR PLAY.

AN ADMIRING CRANK

Writes to Coughlan and Hardie About Baseball.

The Oakland Club are making great preparations for their series of games this week, two of which are against the Stocktons. Roscoe Coughlan will pitch both games.

Coughlan this morning received the following letter. The writer evidently has great faith in Roscoe's ability, or he asks him to "shut them out without a hit":

Roscoe Coughlan, Esq., Oakland: DEAR SIR—If you pitch against the Stocktons next Thursday or Sunday try to shut them out without a hit; by doing so you would greatly oblige one of your club's

ADMIRERS.

Lou Hardie has received a similar one in the same handwriting, asking that he make 200 base hits before the season is over. Lou has over 100 base hits to his credit now.

A FARCE.

The Warren-Murphy Fight Not Determined.

The fight between Warren and Murphy, the feather weights, took place at the rooms of the California Athletic Club last night. The contestants in the first thirty rounds did some good work, but thereafter up to the sixty-ninth round the fight was a farce. Finally the referee left the ring and the fight ended. The Board of Directors will decide today whether the contestants are entitled to any money. It is stated that the fighters had decided to have the fight declared a draw and divide the purse.

THE CANOE CLUB.

The Corinthians Surprise the Home Club.

The members of the Corinthian Yacht Club surprised the members of the Oakland Canoe Club Saturday afternoon. The boys from 'Frisco came over in their boats and gave Commodore Blow's men a genuine surprise. A pleasant evening was spent at the clubhouse and the sailors retired shortly after midnight. Sunday the gentlemen cruised about the creek, and in the afternoon the Oakland canoeists escorted the Corinthians to the head of the creek and bid them good bye.

For Horsemen.

The San Francisco Breeder and Sportsman issued a very valuable number last week, of special interest to horsemen. The edition contains a number of excellent cuts of noted horses, and also contains valuable statistics.

For the Yachtman.

Now put away the yachting clothes,
The flannel shirt and pants,
And then the yachtman's sunburned nose
To heal will have a chance.

THE COUNTY INFIRMARY.

Supervisor Pelouze Says That It is not Overcrowded.

There has been much talk of late over the condition of the County Infirmary, it having been alleged that the institution was in an overcrowded condition.

"I don't consider that it is overcrowded at all," said Supervisor Pelouze yesterday. "The Infirmary has room for twenty or thirty more patients, and will accommodate them easily. In some rooms there are four patients, and these rooms are twenty feet square, and as the ventilation is perfect this does not amount to much. In San Francisco they are more crowded than this, and there are eight or a dozen in the rooms, with only three feet between the beds. They are now fed off crockery, and not tin, as formerly, and they have exactly the same food as the officers. The quarters are kept clean, and we never have any trouble. The whole board went out there Monday."

The Eight Hour Leaguers met last evening and passed resolutions of thanks to the City Council for granting them the right to hold mass meetings in City Hall park. They also thanked the Oakland Gas, Light, and Heat Company for the free use of an electric light. It was decided that the league hold an open air mass meeting on the evening of the third Tuesday of every month hereafter.

Amputated.

Yesterday afternoon Doctors Woolsey and Taylor amputated the fractured leg of Antone Punta, the Portuguese, who was struck by a flat car at Long Wharf about two weeks ago. The limb was badly crushed, and although the fractured bone was set it would not heal and mortification set in, necessitating amputation.

Postponed.

Bludbilder

The new vegetable tonic-alterative and blood purifier is in the shape of a pleasant syrup, and contains in a concentrated form the most valuable vegetable curatives, which have been developed by modern medical and scientific research. It acts directly upon the blood, through it imparting tone and vigor to the entire system and eradicating disease, and is unequaled as a cure for Scrofulous, Cancerous and other humors, whether constitutional or otherwise, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Dropsy, sick and nervous headache, female weakness, and all blood, liver and kidney diseases. Price $1.00. Sold by Osgood Bros.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. The medical profession has been slow to learn this. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or syringes because they are all irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that catarrh can inflict testify to radical cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm.

Merit Wins.

We desire to say to our citizens, that for years we have been selling Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Dr. King's New Life Pills, Bucklen's Arnica Slave and Electric Bitters, and have never handled remedies that sell as well, or that have given such universal satisfaction. We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price, if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. Osgood Bros., druggists

LYON RELIEF CORPS.

An Entertainment for a Charitable Purpose.

An entertainment was given at Grand Army Hall last night by the ladies of Lyon Relief Corps for the benefit of the Old Ladies' Home at Evergreen, Santa Clara county. The hall was comfortably filled, and the programme was highly appreciated.

Miss Grace Eaton Ewing recited a comic selection, and Hugh Mulligan then appeared in a series of comic recitations. Will A. Chamberlain told the tale of "The Mutton Pudding" in an amusing way. Hugh Mulligan then gave examples of his versatility in instrumental music, playing four different kinds of instruments in succession, and after H. T. Smith had sung a song Mulligan wound up the programme with a funny exhibition of ventriloquism. The floor was then cleared and a social dance indulged in. George Smith acted as floor manager. Several ladies of the Relief Corps appeared in Continental dress. They were Mrs. Craiger, Mrs. Gladding, Mrs. Amanda Smith, Mrs. Gould, Mrs. Barton and Miss Bertha Clift. Refreshments were served and a general good time enjoyed. The committees were: Programme—Mrs. Lois Apgar. Refreshments—Madams M. A. Rathbone, D. S. Calkin, M. J. Smith, and Mrs. Gould. Lemonade—Mrs. Amidon.

Prepare for Winter.

Nothing looks as bad as to see a gentleman inclined to be a society man clinging to his summer clothes during the fall and winter. It shows a very bad taste on the part of the wearer. Messrs. O'Connor & Co., the fashionable tailors at 1010 Broadway, have just received a new line of fall and winter goods and are prepared to make them up into suits of the latest fashion. Their stock is a large one, and an inspection of the goods will convince customers that they cannot do better anywhere. Everybody is invited to call and examine the latest importations and fashion plates.

Auction Sale.

Why pay a fancy price at auction when you can take time an inspect goods at your leisure, at H. Schellhaas? A good many auction sales at the present day are conducted on a limit. If goods do not bring a certain price why they are knocked down to Mrs. Brown, or Mr. Hedge, and the next day or two will boom up in a retail shop at a fancy price. At our mammoth furniture and carpets warerooms we have on display full line of elegant and costly chamber and dining room furniture, body Brussels carpets, rugs of all descriptions, engravings, oil paintings, at remarkably low prices. Give us a call at 408 Eleventh street, H. SCHELLHAAS.

THE Oakland Journal is the only and largest circulated German newspaper in this and surrounding counties; it is therefore the best advertising medium, and every business house should consult its own interest and use its columns. Office, corner Seventh and Webster streets, Oakland.

A Large Consignment.

Four sealed express cars arrived at the Oakland Pier this morning consigned to Joe Lancaster, Oakland's Artist Tailor. They contain the very latest fall and winter goods from Paris and London and tonight the people will be surprised at the display at his store. Joe is always up with the times and an inspection will convince people that his goods are better than other tailors. Go and see the latest.

TRUSTED HIS WIFE.

That is Where Thomas Hogan Made a Sad Mistake.

He Transferred His Property to His Better Half and Now Brings Suit to Get It Back.

It was in 1858 when Thomas Hogan and Mary A. Hogan joined their fates together and determined to sail as one on the troubled waters of the matrimonial sea. Hogan in his younger days was a thrifty sort of a chap and with the assistance of his frugal wife soon accumulated several valuable pieces of property in West Oakland. In 1881 they sold some of the land to William Lott for $7000 and this money was applied to paying off the incumbrance on other property. Prior to this time, however, Hogan felt that he was getting old and thought it would be the proper caper to deed all his property to his wife to be held in trust for him and have it agreed that she would at any time he demanded reconvey it to him. And so he deeded all his lands to his wife. In the early part of this month Hogan became possessed of the idea that he would again like to have his property in his own name, so accordingly he presented a deed to his wife for her signature reconveying to him the lands which have now become valuable. Did she sign it? No indeed, and that is the reason why ... Hogan ... alleges that ... be defraud him out of his property. It is for these reasons that to-day Hogan commenced suit in the Superior Court of this county, praying his Honor Judge ... to declare that Mrs. Hogan is not the rightful owner of the lands and that she simply holds the property in trust and that he is the true and ... owner of the property.

STILL THERE IS DOUBT.

The Officers Probably Have the Wrong Man in Jail.

There are no new developments to-day in the case of Henry Dahl, the man who is in the County Jail accused of being the assailant of little Flossie Moran. Since his incarceration Dahl has not been allowed to see anyone and has not been known yet to have accusations ... made against him. He often asks the jailers why ... he has been put ... with the reply that ... of ... Deputy Sheriff ... of the opinion that Dahl ... and bases his opinion upon the fact that the prisoner frankly gives an account of himself; that he is anxious to make a statement, that he does not act like a man who has committed any grave offense. Mr. Woolsey says that the only suspicious circumstance about the man's statement is that he seems very anxious to keep away from the 6th of July, the day on which little Flossie was assaulted. A letter has been written to a farmer living near Sacramento, for whom Dahl says he was working in July last. A reply is expected in a few days, and if it turns out that the prisoner's story is true, he will be discharged.

NOT A FOXY FOX.

Wild and Woolly Tales Told by a Deputy Sheriff.

Deputy Sheriff John Morrison returned this morning after roaming for two weeks in the wilds of the Santa Cruz mountains, where he was in hot pursuit of the phantom bear. Mr. Morrison returned with a ... full of wild and woolly tales of his experiences among the redwoods. Last Friday he says he put into a flock of quail and killed seven dozen before he quit. So thick were the little birds that in his efforts to shoot them on all sides he shot off the rim of his hat. Morrison's most exciting experience was when he was on a fox hunt. He thought the foxes were very foxy, but asserts that they were not foxy enough for a foxy Deputy Sheriff. So he bagged two of them and brought back their skins in proof of his statement. Mr. Morrison resumed his duties this morning as day jailor at the County Jail.

Hawaiian Irrigation.

G. T. Allardt of this city and James D. Schuyler, Civil Engineers, have just published in pamphlet form their report on the water supply for irrigation on the Honouliuli and Kahuku ranchos, Hawaiian Islands. These gentlemen were invited by B. T. Dillingham of Honolulu to examine these islands, with the view of ascertaining the water supply available for irrigation, and the practicability of establishing extensive sugar plantations. The pamphlet is an exhaustive and comprehensive treatise on the subject.

That Odious Old Shah.

London Truth.

The Shah gave an infinity of trouble at Vienna. After the first state dinner he suddenly started from his seat at table and rushed out of the room, and the Archduchess Elizabeth who represented the Empress, had literally to chase him in order that they might enter the saloon together at the head of the guests. At the Schonbrunn Menagerie the King of Kings diverted himself by knocking at the more savage animals with a stick, which threw them into transports of fury, and at the imperial banquet he kept the Emperor waiting for twenty minutes. On the last evening of his stay the Persian Minister gave reception and supper, but, to the horror of the trembling diplomatist, the Shah positively refused to see any of the guests, insisting on taking his meal apart, in the company of little Aziz, who created a disturbance on the night of the gala performance at the theater, as deeming himself to have been insulted by one of the Court functionaries. He screamed, stamped his foot and bawled, "Allez diable, bête!"

The Biggest Rattler of All.

Pittsburg Commercial Gazette.

L. H. Britton and John Murray of New Lisbon, O., yesterday brought to that place from Carrolton a monster rattlesnake. Examination of natural histories fails to show any record of his equal in size, the greatest length allowed his species ranging from seven to eight feet. This one is over nine feet. He is fifteen inches in circumference and has twelve rattles at present, some having been broken off. He is a diamond rattler, a species confined to the Atlantic coast from Florida to North Carolina and the largest of all rattlers. The snake was captured in Florida by two negroes, who make a business of killing them for their hides. On account of great size they took this alive. They performed the rather delicate operation by placing a trap over a hole in the sand into which they had seen him crawl after a turtle. He was shipped North as a present to Bird Kriper of Carrolton, who soon found himself with the biggest kind of a white elephant on his hands, and sold him to parties in this place. His snakeship is as lively as a cricket, although he has eaten hardly anything since his captivity.

AT MIDNIGHT.

That's When Judge Greene Adjourned Court Yesterday.

When Judge Greene commences on a case he does not allow it to drag in his court, but invariably puts the lawyers on their mettle. Yesterday he was engaged in trying the case of Conness vs. Savage, and his Honor thought that the case was one which should not take more than a day to try. But the lawyers were slow in getting in their proof, so his Honor just kept on running court until midnight. A San Francisco attorney was engaged in the case, and while Judge Greene was commenting upon the testimony he silently stole away and raced to catch the last train for across the bay. His Honor intimated that he will decide the case for the plaintiff. The further argument on some law points will be resumed next Monday.

They Know a Good Thing.

It is shown by the records that more married couples come to Oakland to reside than any other city on the coast. The only way to account for this is that the wonderful store of Henry Schellhaas's is located in this city, and the people cannot afford to miss any of his great bargains in furniture and other household supplies. His store is at the corner of Eleventh and Franklin streets, under Odd Fellows' Hall.

The Bon Ton.

The Bon Ton Saloon is a popular resort located at the corner of Eleventh street and Broadway. This establishment has always enjoyed the reputation of being a strictly first class saloon in every respect. C. T. Capaul, a gentleman of a great deal of experience in the liquor business, has purchased the Bon Ton, and in the future will endeavor to maintain the good reputation of the place by carrying the best stock of foreign and domestic wines, liquors and cigars. Mr Capaul will be pleased to receive his share of the patronage of the Oakland people.

The Center of the Town.

The exact center of East Oakland has been figured out by the surveyors, who have been running lines up there. They say that the central point is fifty feet west of Seventh avenue, on the south line of Twelfth street. This is nearly in front of M. Y. Stewart's meat market at 311 East Twelfth street, where the best supply of fresh meat in the city is on sale.

"NO GREAT STRAIN."

"Of a Better Stamp Than is Visible in the Usual Run."

Every little while application is made to send Echoes to some address and collect at the expiration of the subscription. Such requests will henceforth be denied. Echoes is not in its experimental stage. It has been in life hard on to four years. It is on a solid foundation. There is a bother attached to the collection of the bill. In some cases the amount of the account is not worth the bother entailed in getting it. The price of Echoes is cheap, and it is no great strain for a patron to pay for it in advance. There is a certainty that Echoes will be delivered for the full time stipulated. The character of reading regularly presented in Echoes is of a better stamp than is visible in the usual run of periodicals. Although the province of Echoes is to amuse, its mission is to instruct in the particulars of philosophy, science, mechanics, and like important fields. Echoes appears every Saturday, and every number is composed of eight pages of matter that affords food for deep thought. Such an enterprise, conducted in accord with such a policy, should receive a hearty support. Another cardinal aim of the publisher is to make evident to the perusers of Echoes, and to the persons who behold articles copied from it, that Oakland and vicinity form the peerless residence and business region of this globe. As Echoes is issued for the petty sum of $2 a year, or one-fourth that amount for three months, it would seem no one should refrain from paying the subscription price in advance. Your favor may be enclosed and mailed to Echoes, P. O. box 1550, Oakland, California.

The Sweetest and Best.

Wheelock Pianos, for sweetness of tone, touch, even scale, durability and general fine workmanship cannot be surpassed. This is an acknowledged fact, to which the hundreds of customers who use them will testify. They are bought and recommended by most of the leading musicians, convents, schools and seminaries. While this piano is of high grade and cannot be sold as cheap as many inferior grades are sold, yet Mr. Girard, who is the sole manufacturer's agent on the coast, sells them at a reasonable price. What makes pianos so high? It is the sub-agents' and middlemen's commission, who canvass from house to house bothering people day and night representing all kinds of plausible ideas to induce them to take one of their pianos. Mr Girard employs no agents. Those who wish to buy a reliable instrument and save middlemen's commission will do well to examine the large stock of pianos and organs and all kinds of musical instruments at F. R. Girard's music store, 1159 Broadway, between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, who sells pianos on easy monthly payments and warrants every instrument he sells.

Secure Long Life.

One of the most important factors in the preservation of health is the selection of the food we eat, particularly meats. The freshest, healthiest, purest and best should always be obtained. This can be done without any difficulty by patronizing T. J. Crowley, at the Eastern Market, 1561 New Broadway. He has already established a reputation among housekeepers, that is the envy of all other market men. His stall fed beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork, choice hams, corned beef and salt pork are without superior in this city.

He Saved My Life.

Some 18 months ago my health began to fail until I was confined to my bed. Some of the best medical skill of San Francisco treated me for enlargment of the liver. I failed so rapidly that my relations were summonsed to my bedside. When in that condition, and through the influence of Captain Fletcher's family of Oakland, Doctor Bluett of that city was telegraphed for, and the result was most favorable, as the Doctor diagnosed my case as chronic enlargment of the stomach. Without asking any questions he gave me a perfect history of my disease from the beginning down to that date, June 18, 1889. The treatment was begun and I felt a great change inside of six hours. The second day I sat up, and inside of a week I resumed my work as bookkeeper for Gillman & Danforth's Coffee House.

I am now enjoying splendid health.

A SUCCESSFUL COMPANY.

A Record Unequaled in the History of Express Companies.

Two years ago there was a little four wagon express company started and called the "People's Express Company." From the first success stared the company in the face, and owing to the prompt and careful attention to business and being in the hands of good managers it is today the most extensive and best conducted company on the coast, and its patrons have placed the stamp of their approval upon the above statement. It runs the largest and most costly wagons that cross the bay, manufactured expressly for it, and unparalleled in structure, some being especially built to carry furniture and pianos while others are for heavy freight, safes, etc. This company's baggage system is beyond the possibility of questioning, the most reliable and prompt medium of transportation. It checks baggage at hotels or residences to all parts of the United States. Office 423 Tenth street. Telephone 326.

Dingee's Auction Sale To Morrow.

A special auction sale of choice city property will be held by W. J. Dingee to-morrow in his rooms on Eighth st. A fine residence on Sycamore street, near Telegraph avenue, will go to the highest bidder; also a cottage on Fifth street, near Market. A good piece of business property off Market and Twenty-first streets is on the list and must be sold, as well as many other important pieces.

The Point of Attraction.

When the California and Nevada Road was first built it was not the intention to have a station at San Pablo avenue crossing. But the travelers from Walnut Creek and the country compelled the builders to build a station there. They wanted to alight from the trains at J. B. Baxter's door. Baxter is the famous North Oakland meat man, and all railroads pass his shop.
